CONFERENCE INFORMATION

REKLIM warmly welcomes researchers over the globe to take part in the second international conference “Our Climate – Our Future: Regional Perspectives on a Global Challenge” which incorporates keynote speeches, oral talks, poster presentations, networking opportunities, and many more. The three-day international scientific conference will be followed by a public engagement day on 26 September 2019, which will focus on promoting dialogue (in German) between scientists and decision makers from the political and administrative sectors as well as at professional associations.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION

Rooms have been blocked at several hotels near the venue. Please see below for prices, contact details and closing dates and make your own reservation by contacting the hotels directly. In order to benefit from the special accommodation rates please do not forget to quote the booking code which you received with your conference registration. Due to the high season for fairs and conferences in Berlin the pre-reservation period is strictly limited and we recommend to make your reservation as early as possible. Hotel room rates are rising rather fast in Berlin during the given period.
